CAPRICORN

December 22 ~ January 19

Capricorns tend to be practical and responsible. They appreciate excellence and quality. Disciplined and hard-working should be tattooed on their arm, but discreetly and tastefully done, of course. Capricorns take care of others, are good in business, are natural teachers, and are always self-sufficient. I was raised by Capricorns and for some reason have tons of friends and family who are Capricorns. If you can get past the silent polite air of disapproval in your fellow Capricorn, you will find a loving, funny, and fiercely loyal person who will support you through hell or high-water. They are the rocks of the zodiac.

Capricorns hold themselves to the highest standards. Each Capricorn has 3 metaphorical boxes that are labeled Blue Ribbon, Mediocre-But-Tried-Their-Best, and Failed. The blue ribbon box is clear, big, and ALWAYS freshly dusted. The mediocre-but-tried-their-best box is made of sturdy cardboard with a tight-fitting lid. It will collect dust on occasion and is a little smaller than average in size. Then, there is the failed box. This box is made from steel. It is tucked into a dark discrete place that only the Capricorn frequents. There is a lot of dust on this box as the Capricorn rarely has to open it, but they also don't linger when they do need to pop that baby open. Some of them may shove things in there with their eyes closed, which also explains why this sucker looks like it was found in an ancient tomb.

Every Capricorn strives for a huge, dare I say, giant blue ribbon box, and they all probably have one. Their life goal is ALWAYS to either get rid of the steel box altogether or only need a very small one. The thing that our Capricorn friends need to remember is that no one even notices the steel box and most of us even enjoy our Capricorn loved ones a little better if that steel box is just a little larger than microscopic. The point of this metaphor is to tell Capricorn that they should go easy on themselves and to remember that the rest of the Zodiac would be lost without them.

Now, obviously, stereotypes are not cool... But... (yeah, I know.) If you ever wondered how to tell a Capricorn from one of the other zodiac signs, just take a tour of their closet. You will find mostly neutral, practical clothes. They will be nice, pretty and classic. There will be the appropriate amount of shirts to pants and maybe one black dress item. Everything will be hanging on hangers or folded nicely and there will be the maximum number of shoes present as well. In case you were wondering, that number is three.

One other thing: This sign is often hysterical. Seriously, they have a great dry sense of humor and if you ever need a designated driver, ask your favorite Capricorn. They secretly love to go to parties, stay sober, and watch the people around them do insanely stupid things. They will be the ones making you an amazing breakfast the next day with a perfect cup of coffee (and aspirin). They will also have deleted your embarrassing social media posts along with the phone number of the clearly not-for-you guy that you met in your drunken stupor. You're welcome.
